

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10.
Hon. H. J. R. Bodwell has been named as the republican candidate for governor of Maine.

The Rhode Island legislature Tuesday re-elected Hon. Nelson W. Aldrich, republican, United States senator for the full term beginning next March.

The report that the Providence Journal had announced that it would not support Mr. Blaine for the presidency if he were nominated, is denied by that paper.

The republican nominations in Maine for congress are as follows: Second District, Hon. Nelson W. Aldrich, re-nominated; Third District, Hon. S. L. Milliken, re-nominated; Fourth District, Hon. C. A. Boutwell, re-nominated.

A test case is intended to get an opinion from the supreme court of Ohio upon the constitutionality of the Dow law for taxation of saloons has been very quietly made at Cincinnati at the instance of the police commissioners, and is now ready for presentation to the supreme court.

W. A. Bois, of Marengo, McHenry county, one of the most extensive butter manufacturers in Northern Illinois, has failed. He was the proprietor of over twenty butter factories. His liabilities exceed $100,000, and his failure has carried down the banking house of B. S. Parker, of Marengo.

Mr. Edward Everett Hale, of Boston, has been elected an honorary member of the Vassar college class of 1886. This is the first instance of the kind on record. Anybody would be delighted to have an honorary membership in a class of tenative, but when the girls take to electing male members isn't it, asks the Troy Times, an indication that their Adamless Eden is becoming a little monotonous?

Charles Johnstone, chief of the Delaware Indians in Indian territory, is on his way to Washington to hold a conference with the "Great Father," who will doubtless find it difficult to come down to Johnstone so soon after wedding cake. The chief is 72 years of age, and has presided over the destiny of the Delaware as their chief for forty years, the longest period such a position was ever held by one man among the red men. For thirty-five years he has been an ordained Baptist minister, and at his present age delivers two sermons every Sabbath to his people.

Late returns of the Oregon elections indicate the election of a democratic governor, state treasurer, judge of the supreme court and probably secretary of state. At the democratic central committee headquarters they claim the state by a small majority. Penneyer, for governor, runs ahead of his ticket probably 1,500. He owes his election to the Knights of Labor and anti-society societies which were active in his support. The Republicans elect the superintendent of public instruction and Eugene Hornum, the member of congress. Penneyer's home, hitherto strongly republican, gives him 500 majority.

St. Paul Pioneer-Press: The rain which commenced falling in the north-west Monday night came just in time to save crops of all kinds from very serious damage. In some sections the wheat plant had begun to turn yellow and had a sickly appearance. The rain of Tuesday extended all over Dakota from St. Vincent to Huron, being heavy in places, but mostly light showers. The Devils Lake region, which needed rain most, got a good soaking. The ground in many places in Dakota and Minnesota is dry to a considerable depth, and it will take more than light showers to bring out a good average crop. A Polk county, Minn., correspondent reports much late sown seed not started, and the crop prospect in the whole north as good as last year. The farmers of the southeastern part think the crop will be very short even with rain. Much corn had to be replanted, and hay is short and thin.

COULDN'T BE BEAT BY GOTHAM.

Chicago Has a First-class Alleged Adulterator. CHICAGO, June 10.—The Times Wednesday morning reported the passage of the ordinance allowing the North Chicago Railway to change its line to the large majority. "For the sum of $100,000," it is divided between the sum of its members, the city council on Monday evening after a prolonged debate, passed an ordinance giving the North Chicago Passenger railway company the right to lay street car cables on their lines.

The Times adds: "The ordinance will, no doubt, be signed by the mayor, who, it is alleged, has already announced his intention not to veto it."

It is stated that the mayor, in an interview, said that the amount asserted to have been paid is probably correct, and that he knew of one case in the past—though it was impossible to prove it—where $100,000 had been divided in the same manner.

To Test the Ohio Dow Law. CINCINNATI, June 10.—A test case, intended to get an opinion from the Ohio supreme court upon the constitutionality of the Dow law for the taxation of saloons, was very quietly made up here at the instance of the police commissioners, and is now ready for presentation to the state supreme court.

He Seems to Want the Earth. CHICAGO, June 10.—L. W. Fletcher, a recently-arrived member of the board of directors, has brought suit in the circuit court, that corporation for $500,000. He claims that since his expulsion he has lost $500,000 in profits, and that his defense has cost him $500,000.

The Guard at Gettfield's Tomb. CHESTER, June 10.—The soldiers who were guarding the late President Garfield's tomb for the past five years have received orders relieving them from duty on June 10. A petition signed by Cleveland citizens will be forwarded to the secretary of war asking that the guard be retained.

Base Ball Scores. The league clubs of Chicago and New York played Wednesday the outstanding Chicago 1, New York 6—six innings. The Metropolitan and Brooklyn clubs of the American association tried conclusions, the Metropolitan scoring 5 and the New York 1.

How Women Would Vote. Were women allowed to vote, every one of the lead who has used Dr. Pierce's "Woman's Prescription" would vote to be an unfeeling remedy for the diseases peculiar to her sex. By druggists.

ORANGE INTOLERANCE.

FILLS BELFAST STREETS WITH THE MADNESS OF RIOT.

The Police Use Their Arms With Fatal Effect, but Without Quelling the Frantic Mob.

Which Drives the Officers in a Rout to Their Barracks—Several Women, a Clergyman, and Many of the Mob Killed—Scores of Wounded on Both Sides—The Soldiers Clear the Streets.

BELFAST, June 10.—The riotous demonstrations of the Orangemen in this city were renewed Wednesday evening. The rioters began with pelting the Catholics' houses with stones. The police were promptly on hand and summoned the mob to disperse. No heed was paid to the summons, and the riot was carried with little effect. The mob, during the reading of the act, continued their work of destruction, sending showers of stones through the windows and doors of houses occupied by Catholics, breaking furniture, raiding ale houses, etc., when suddenly the order was given to the police to fire. A volley was fired into the mob, and three of the rioters fell dead, while a dozen others lay upon the ground bleeding from wounds, some of which will prove fatal. The mob returned the fire, and for twenty minutes a lively fusillade was kept up. Several of the police and many more of the rioters were wounded in the light, and when finally the arrival of police reinforcements caused the rioters to withdraw, it was discovered that a young woman, a barmaid in a tavern in front of which the first volley had been fired, was struck in the head by a bullet and killed. The woman had been standing in a window looking upon the scene of disorder, and was probably the victim of the uncorrelated aim of a policeman.

The mob moved farther down the street and resumed their work of destruction upon buildings whose tenants were oblivious to their religious ideas. The police charged upon them, but were met by a shower of resistance entirely unexpected, and for which they were unprepared. The mob opened fire upon the officers, who fell back, slowly at first, but gradually accelerating their speed until finally they broke into a run, and the spectacle was presented of 150 armed policemen in full and glorious retreat, closely pursued by a howling mob, firing revolvers and throwing stones at them. The police made all possible speed to their barracks, where they took refuge, barring the doors behind them. The rioters stormed the doors and discharged their revolvers at the most vulnerable parts of the building. The police fired upon the mob from the windows, killing five and wounding a dozen. Meanwhile the military had been ordered out to assist the police in restoring order and they arrived at the barracks and scattered the rioters before the police could fire a second volley. The police and military together then marched back to the original scene of disorder, and a systematic patrol of the streets. The rioters made several attempts subsequently to assemble in a body sufficiently large to oppose the military and police, but each time were thwarted and in the end compelled to retire to their homes.

All is now quiet, but the precautionary measures will not be relaxed until all danger of further disorder is past. Several riotous attempts were made to persuade the mob to disperse, but without success. One of them was killed by a stray shot while the others fled. A widow, the mother of two little children.

DUNELM, June 10.—Arthur and Andrew Donnelly, the leading Catholic merchants of the city, were arrested upon the charge of trying to organize from the windows of their store.

ATLANTA, June 10.—An informal machine, consisting of a jar filled with black substance and some clockwork, was thrown Tuesday at the headquarters of a Protestant's house in Largent, County Antrim. When the machine was hurled it had a lighted fuse attached to it, and it exploded in the doorway.

BRITISH POLITICAL NEWS.

Parliament To Be Dissolved June 24.—The Queen Consents.

LONDON, June 10.—Scores of provincial Tory and Liberal election agents are in London consulting with the whips of their respective parties in regard to plans for the coming parliamentary elections. Gladstone has declared that any constituency shall be provided with a house rule candidate, and the Radical clubs and societies to supply volunteers as workers during the campaign and at the polls. The government will endeavor to dissolve parliament on June 21, or sooner, if the necessary business now before the house can be disposed of without delay. It is not desired by the government to interfere with harvest work by precipitating an election campaign during the height of that industry.

The House has telegraphed to Mr. Gladstone her consent to the dissolution of parliament after conferring with Lord Hartington, whom she asked whether he was willing to form a ministry. Lord Hartington advised dissolution, informing her majesty that he himself would regard dissolution as desirable at this time should be formed a government.

The Cholera Gathers Them In. ROME, June 10.—There were thirty new cases of cholera and two deaths at Venice on the 9th inst.; five new cases and two deaths at Bari on that day; twenty-one new cases and thirteen deaths at Nice on the 9th. There is unusual prevalence of the disease in this city. Cases at Florence do not seem to be cholera, but some similar affection caused by drinking water.

Nicoll and Patti Married. LONDON, June 10.—The civil marriage of Mme. Adolphe Patti and Nicoll took place at Swansea, Wales, Wednesday. The ceremony was performed at the office of the French consulate. The office was surrounded by a crowd of people, who enthusiastically cheered the bride and groom when they entered and when they departed.

Yon Der Aie Paid the Fine. COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 10.—The special meeting of the American Base Ball association called to take action on the failure of the St. Louis club to pay certain fines assessed against Capt. Conkley by umpires and also to investigate the charges against Bushong and Latham for their outrageous conduct on the Baltimore grounds on the 4th inst., convened Wednesday. Yon Der Aie, seeing how the land lay, before the meeting convened, paid the dues assessed against Conkley, amounting to $300. The cases of Bushong and Latham were left in President Willett's hands. Rule 15 was amended by making it punishable by a fine for the captain or any player to question any decision of the umpire. When players are fined by the umpire they will stand suspended until the fines are paid to the association.

New Movements Unveiled. ALBANY, N. Y., June 10.—The two movements created on the Georgeburg battlefield to commemorate the action taken by the First and Second Delaware regiments in that engagement were unveiled Tuesday with appropriate ceremonies. A special car from New York conveyed a committee of

NEW ENGLAND FISHERMEN THREATENING WARLIKE ACTION.

Their Mackerel Fisheries in Danger—Talk of a Sort of Revival of the Boston Tea Party—The Government Said To Be on the Point of Action.

GREENSBORO, Mass., June 10.—The dispatch from the provinces learning of the expulsion of American fishing vessels from waters within three miles of a line drawn from headland to headland caused considerable excitement here. The fishermen say that the construction of the treaty will cut off their mackerel fishery, and they threaten to take the law into their own hands, unless the government does something to help them. At an interview, Wednesday morning, President Stebbins, of the American Fishery union, said:

"There appears to be a better feeling in Washington. As far as the ships are concerned, they have been excluded from commercial privileges, and those who have been ordered out from the large bays, arrive, their activities will be taken before they can do much harm. The vessels are forwarded to the authorities at Washington. Then they will have something to work on that is substantial. Newspaper reports are not substantial."

President Stebbins forwarded the affidavits of the skipper of the A. M. Jordan, who had a permit to touch and trade, and Secretary Hay had replied to it. Just what the answer is a secret, but so far as can be learned something will be done regarding the commercial rights of Americans.

The Boston Globe correspondent was told by a certain successful and reliable fisherman that the fishermen are organizing to take the law into their own hands and defend their property and business by force of arms unless the government speedily does something for their protection. Several five mile boats are being ordered to be banded together at Block Island the other day and at Vineyard Haven over 100 sailers have organized. They propose, if the government does nothing, to arm and drive off all Canadian vessels coming to the United States with fish meeting them on the high seas and destroying their fish. They have detectives in the provinces to verify their claims, and to ship goods by rail and means will be taken to stop their importation. Many fishermen are Knights of Labor and it is reported that the knights will have a hand in the matter.

Shut His Wife's Father Dead. CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 10.—Wednesday afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock, the startling news of a murder was heard in the public square. A few moments after it was discovered that H. C. Long had killed W. F. Culbertson, his father-in-law. The tragedy is the result of Culbertson's threats against his son-in-law. When Long married Miss Culbertson, her father was very much enraged, and at the time had to be put under bonds to keep the peace. He discharged his duties, but when he returned home he found his wife killed by a buggy wheel, and would have killed her if she had not thrown the buggy wheel from that point and out his 200 ft. Afterwards he went west to Long, that he intended to kill him and his wife. Long is now in jail and will have a trial. The popular verdict is in favor of Long, and it is considered a case of self-defense.

The Type Sticklers. PITTSBURGH, June 10.—At Wednesday's session of the International Typographical convention a large number of amendments were presented, among other amendments to make the terms of the joint order of society and printer two years, providing for district conventions; to abolish the office of chief organizer, his duties to be performed by the president, with a salary; to amend the constitution of the society to give bond in the sum of $10,000. Five hundred dollars was appropriated for Jacksonville, Fla., where the union is meeting with opposition, and $200 for Toronto, Can. Resolutions against union with the Knights of Labor were introduced.

Amalgamated Association Sailed. PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 10.—The convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers Wednesday afternoon completed its proposals for the wages scale. The general rule declines from $1.00 for building $1.00, based on a 20-cent rate for bar iron—was agreed on with a slight revision of wages in other branches, in no case amounting to more than 2 per cent. Painters' Lock-Out in Chicago. CHICAGO, June 10.—The day or more ago controlled by the Master Painters' association were closed Wednesday morning, and nearly 1,500 journeyman painters are locked out. Strikes had been ordered in two of the shops, and as the painters in the remaining thirty divisions would contribute to the support of the strikers the lock-out was ordered, thus depriving the strikers of the sinews of war.

Bribery Attempted in Brooks' Case. ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 10.—A letter was received by Sheriff Conkley Tuesday, in which the writer, who signed himself "Charles Hunter," offered the sheriff $10,000 to connive at the escape of Brooks, Peeler's murderer, while he was being taken to the court. A police officer was sent to perfect arrangements for the escape.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Luck of a Nevada Senator.

"I've always believed in providence since one day, years ago, when I was sheriff over in Silver County. It was a rector of a day, and I was returning on horseback from a hunt for some sick robbers. I was slowly following a faint mountain trail, and the sun was just baking me, and the horse was in a rather bad way. I came under the shade of a big rock, and thought it would be pleasant to get out of the sun. I sat down on a cool log, and a puff of wind from my pipe, filled my pipe and left for a match. Well, Joe, there wasn't a match anywhere in my pocket. I searched and searched, but there was no match. I told you, Joe, I felt worse since that disappointment than I've done since, when the match has gone back on me and hit me for $100,000 at a clip.

"Just while I sat there on that boulder wrapped in gloom, what I suppose my eyes suddenly fell on! A match, by heaven, lying on the trail not six feet away from me! I used it, though, I was a little afraid to touch it at first—and had my smoke. So you needn't worry about how this political fight is going to come out. A man for whom providence will go to the trouble of providing a match for a smoke in the wilds of the Sierra Nevada, where man's foot scarcely ever treads, isn't likely to get left when it comes to a common place like this thing being elected to the United States senate. Ever since that day," concluded the Constocker, "I've never refused a dollar to a person, and have generally done my best in a quiet, unobtrusive way, to make myself solid with the people who have the pull on Providence.—Senator Jones to San Francisco Post.

The Jutes Verne of the Future.

The imagination of a 3-year-old boy is often a stupendous thing. One can't help wondering how much a child of that age believes of his own big stories. This one for instance, which I heard from a young child this morning, said Henry, "and I saw a full grown horse up in a tree, and I took a gun and I shot it, and I took it in to show my mother. She said it was a horse, and I cooked it for breakfast!"—Boston Record.

young man lifted the girl into a carriage, while he warded off the father with the other hand. One of her brothers, bearing the row, jumped out of bed in his night-clothes and rushed to the head of the horses. The eloping couple succeeded in getting into the carriage, and the horses started. The father was knocked down and the son was run over by the wheels of the carriage, sustaining a severe rupture. The couple drove to Beloit, were married, and at latest reports the parents had decided to forgive and bless them.

THE MERRY JINGLE.

Of Street Car Bells Will Be Heard in Janesville.

Remedy to the contrary notwithstanding—What Has Been Done.

Several days ago a line of ties was laid on Raynham street between Madison and Washington streets. The roadway was then smoothed over, and work stopped. People began to wonder at this, and it was hinted that this was all the street railroad that Janesville would see for a long time to come. These skeptical ones are likely to be in the wrong. Work was stopped because no more material was at hand, and the officers of the road promise that it is to be commenced again within the next week. Material is arriving every few days, two carloads of ties being unloaded yesterday, and as soon as enough is on hand to insure a constant supply the track laying will be resumed.

One of the officers informed a Gazette reporter recently that when the first day of June came they were not quite ready to commence, but in order to preserve their charter work was begun on one block of the proposed road. It had to be discontinued within a few days as the supplies gave out; but when operations begin in earnest there will be no halts until the line is finished.

One thing that has not yet been settled is the grade of the track. The council has been petitioned to establish this and the matter will probably come up at the meeting next Monday evening. The Nicholson pavement on Milwaukee street originally consisted of blocks four inches high. These have been worn down a great deal during their long service and should the track be laid at the original height, it would stand up considerably above the present level of the street, making a serious obstacle to travel. If it is laid on a level with the pavement now in use, and the pavement in future see fit to replace the worn out blocks with new ones of the original height, the conditions would then be somewhat better, but the grade of the street, instead of above, and would be as much of a hindrance in this case as in the other. Besides that the street may be macadamized instead of paved, which also comes. The officers of the road want all these questions of grade and material to be settled before much work is done. They say positively that work is to be commenced soon, not to be again stopped until the line is completed.
